Warranty Period

PureGuard LLC warrants PureGuard II against defects in material and workmanship for a period of one year. In no event shall PureGuard LLC be liable for any loss, inconvenience or damage whether direct, incidental, consequential or otherwise resulting from breach of any express or implied warranty, of merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose, or otherwise, with respect to PureGuard II except as set forth herein.

Description of Warranty Rights

PureGuard LLC at its sole discretion will either repair the defect or refund the purchase amount and any warranted item which is found to be defective. During the applicable warranty period wherein PureGuard LLC will repair or replace any defective items, PureGuard LLC will not under any circumstance be held liable for any cost incurred for removal, reinstallation, shipping, handling or postage. All warranty inspections and repairs must be performed by a PureGuard LLC authorized agent.

Conditions to Warranty Service

For this warranty to become effective, the following requirements must be met:

1. Any postage, insurance, removal and shipping charges of warranted items to PureGuard LLC or authorized agency must be pre-paid by the original Dealer and these costs are not included under this warranty.
2. The Dealer's original invoice must be retained as proof of purchase date of the warranted item and must be presented to PureGuard LLC or agency when warranty claims are advanced.

Exclusions From the Warranty

This warranty does not cover the specific items and/or conditions described below:

1. Items which have been damaged due to:
  - Alterations
  - Accident, misuse, abuse, fire, flood or "Acts of God" or other contingencies beyond the control of PureGuard LLC.
  - Use of incorrect temperature, chemicals or chemical concentrations. If any of the system conditions exceed the limits stated, are chemicals which are not listed or marked not tested, the WARRANTY on items within that system becomes null and void.
  - The effects of synergism, reaction or complex formation with chemical mixtures not previously tested.
2. Scratches, scrapes, mars or abrasions.
3. Improper or unauthorized repairs.
4. Damage to warranted items sustained in shipment and/or retail purchaser storage.
5. Any item which has had its manufacture number altered, defaced or removed.

Notice

PureGuard LLC reserves the right to make changes in design and improvements upon its products without assuming any obligation to install such changes upon any of its products previously manufactured. This warranty gives you specific legal rights and you may also have other rights which vary from state to state.

All statements, information, and data given herein are believed to be accurate and reliable but are presented without guaranty, warranty, or responsibility of any kind, express or implied.
